The Princess and the Dark Festival Star

Six Days Before the Festival

To bring back the Festival Star, we need three things:

The ancient Star Map.

A crystal from the royal stables.

And a spark from the Boogeyman caves.

I will save the festival!

We must keep her alive.

Wait—there was another layer!

Wait—there was another layer!

Bliss found found it!!

1. The Festival Star Powers the Lanterns

The Festival Star also powers our protective lanterns against the winter fog.

2. The Argument

She's too dangerous!

One mistake and the whole kingdom could be exporse!

She's reckless. We don't know what she'll do next!

Accidents aren't a plan! She could attract more danger than she solves!

3. The Clues

Her accidents have already uncovered two clues.

4. The Plan

We protect the kingdom by protecting her mission.

No control.
Just guidance.
From the shadows,
if we must.

The Turning Point

Being clumsy is not the same as giving up.
Then lead us.

We can do this. Everyone, combine your strengths!

The Last Climb

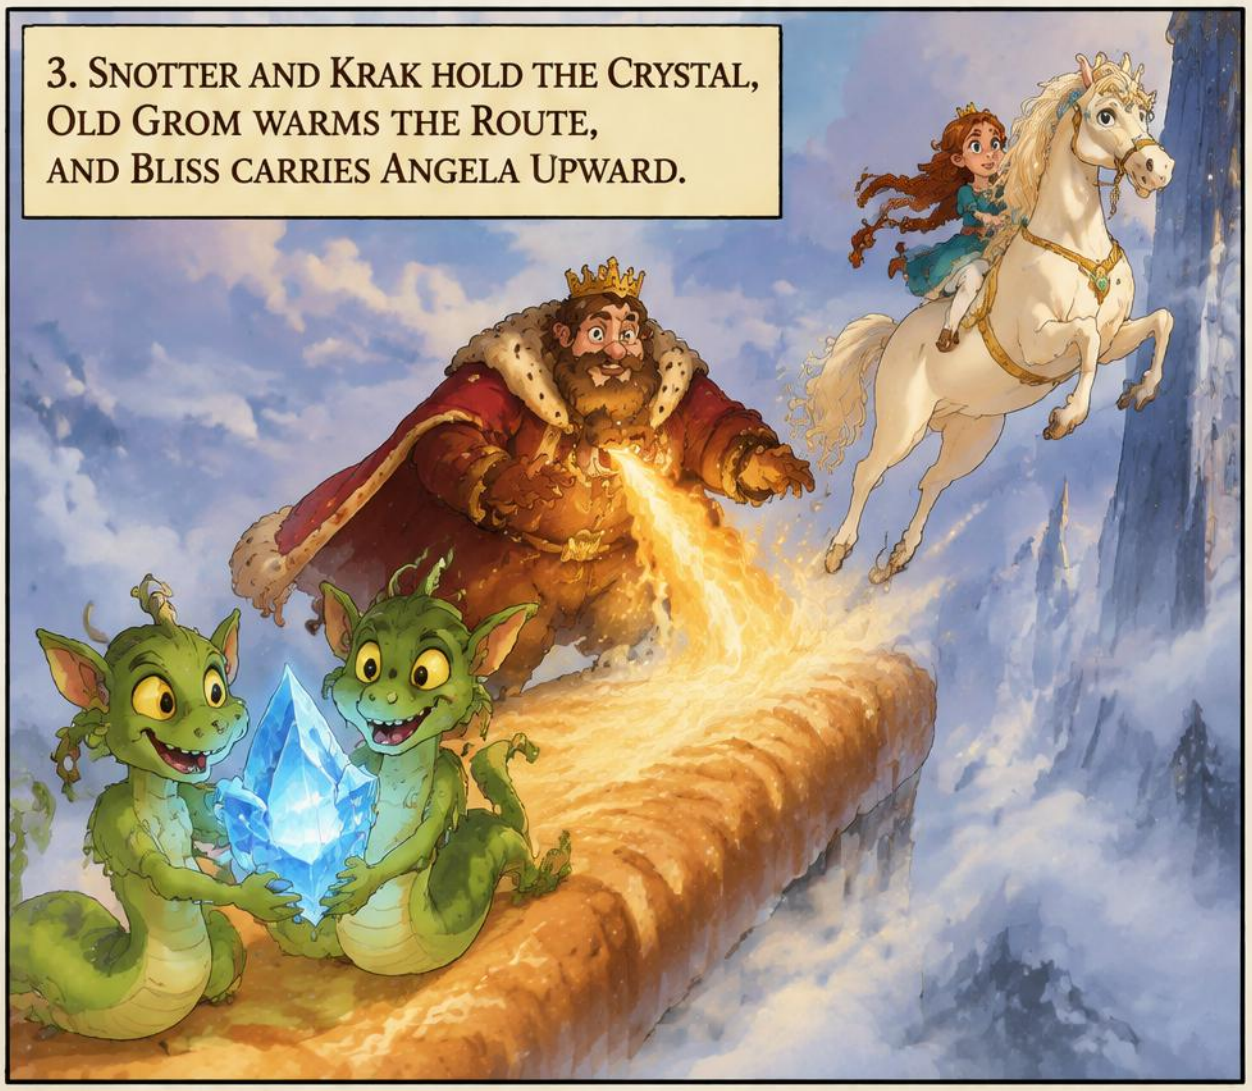

1. Angela leads the group across the Giant Bread Bridge toward the Festival Star Tower.

2. Fog creatures swirl around the path, but Supreme Boogeyman uses Protective Shadows.

3. Snotter and Krak hold the Crystal, Old Grom warms the Route, and Bliss carries Angela upward.

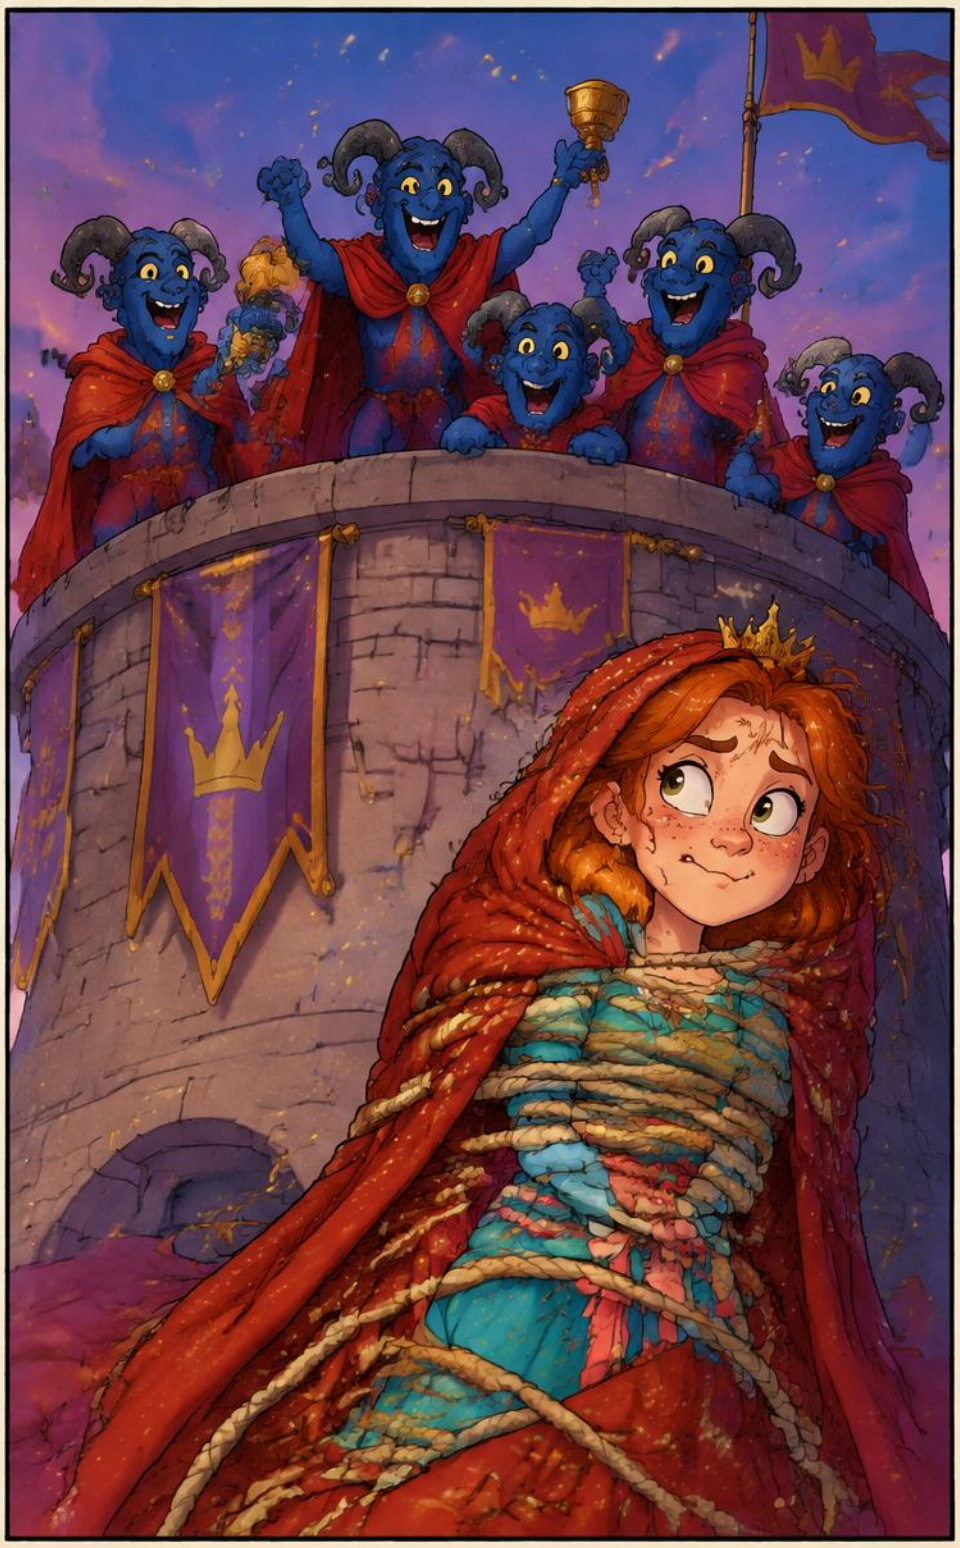

Angela:
"I meant to—oh!"
...

You saved the festival!
We saved it.

ANGELA DID NOT BECOME PERFECT.
SHE BECAME BRAVE ENOUGH TO KEEP TRYING.

And sometimes the best plan is the one that leaves room for a happy accident.
